Sounds good.

Ok. Spoke to Max. No need for any Neuralink tomorrow. Want me to give AP a heads up on Fremont?

Not going to make it to DC or Neuralink tomorrow. Autopilot and V9 meetings can happen in Fremont. Anyone with important topics at Neuralink welcome to drive down.

Hi team!

For this week...

1) Autopilot Weekly (1 hour)
- Deer Creek is of course always better for the team but if factory is what makes sense this week it's a less impactful week to do it. I also don't know if he has many other reasons to be in DC this week so if it's just AP we can have the team come over. If there is any control over when, the window of 12-3 is ideal for the team.

2) Neuralink (1.5 hours)
- Sam and I took a quick temperature on how Elon was thinking about Neuralink for the rest of the quarter and he mentioned he'd probably like to go this week. This should ideally be on Wednesday because there is an NHP surgery tomorrow and we should have outcome data by then. Tuesday, Friday, weekend are also fine if better – but Max is out Thursday so that's the only day that's suboptimal.

Other notes:

1) AP / UI Airport Drive (push to next week)
- Checked in with Autopilot and this week isn't ideal for a drive from airport with Elon because the new UI isn't ready yet – so let's push that to when it is there to show him.

2) OpenAI Reid Hoffman call (no longer a need to schedule)
- Just for awareness, Elon does not need to do the Reid call because he's decided to be supportive in spirit of OpenAI but not participate in the new instrument.

3) AP safety (likely will be next week, some possibility it's 5-10 mins this week after AP meeting)
- Final review set for tomorrow at 1pm. If all ok with numbers across the team we can clear it this week. More likely that we'll need a few edits and opt to get final clearance from Elon next week or over email. Will report back on if team is in accord after tomorrow's meeting.
